REPEALED

580-9-44-.08 Child and Adolescent Seclusion and Restraint. Because of the high risk nature of seclusion and restraint procedures and the potential for harm to clients, the Mental Illness and Substance Abuse Services Division of the DMH Seclusion and Restraint is included here to place the standards within the proper context.

(1) Children/adolescents residing or receiving treatment in a community based setting certified by the DMH have the right to be free of seclusion and restraint. Seclusion and restraint are safety procedures of last resort. Seclusion and restraint are not therapeutic interventions and are not interventions implemented for the purpose of behavior management.

(2) Children/adolescents may be placed in seclusion or physically restrained only in emergency situations when necessary to:

(a) Prevent the child/adolescent from physically harming self or others.

(b) Less restrictive alternative treatment interventions have been unsuccessful or are determined not to be feasible.

(c) When authorized by a qualified individual.

(3) The DMH requires that any organization certified by DMH develop special safety procedures that reflect the policy above. Mechanical restraints are prohibited. Additionally, procedures must be developed which address standards of care as required in this section.

(4) The standards for seclusion and restraint do not apply in the following circumstances with the exception that the standard section that addresses staff competence and training is applicable under these circumstances:

(a) To the use of restraint associated with acute medical or surgical care.

(b) When a staff member(s) physically redirects or holds a child without the child's permission, for fifteen (15) minutes or less in outpatient/nonresidential programs.

(c) To timeout less than fifteen (15) minutes in length for residential programs and under thirty (30) minutes in length for outpatient programs implemented in accordance with the procedures described in this section.

(d) To instances when the client is to remain in his or her unlocked room or other setting as a result of the violation of unit/program rules of regulations consistent with organizational policies and procedures. Organizational policies and procedures shall require that room restriction be for a specified time and be limited to no longer than twelve (12) hours. Should the client decide not to comply and leave the area, seclusion and restraint cannot be instituted unless the criteria are met.

(e) To protective equipment such as helmets.

(f) To adaptive support in response to assessed physical needs of the individual (for example, postural support, orthopedic appliances).

(5) The organization must have written policies and procedures that support the protection of clients and reflect the following:

(a) Emphasize prevention of seclusion and restraint.

(b) Demonstrate seclusion or restraint use is limited to situations in which there is immediate, imminent risk of a child/adolescent harming self or others.

(c) Implemented only when less restrictive alternative treatment interventions have been unsuccessful or are determined not to be feasible and documented in the client record.

(d) Is never used as coercion, discipline, or for staff convenience.

(e) Is limited to situations with adequate, appropriate clinical justification.

(f) Is used only in accordance with an authorization from a seclusion and restraint trained QSAP I or qualified trained registered nurse.

(g) Seclusion and restraint may not be used in lieu of effective communication with clients who are deaf, hard of hearing, or have limited English proficiency. In the case of clients who are deaf and who use sign language to communicate, restraints must be applied in a way that leaves at least one (1) hand free to sign.

(h) When appropriate, Transitional Hold, rather than prone restraint, will be used as an effective safer technique in behavioral emergency situations in which restraint is needed.

(6) Nonphysical interventions are always considered the most appropriate and preferred intervention. These may include redirecting the child/adolescent focus, verbal de-escalation, or directing the child/adolescent to take a timeout.

(7) Utilization of restraint, seclusion, timeouts, and other techniques associated with the safety of the client or used to help him/her gain emotional control shall be implemented and documented in accordance with all applicable requirements and documentation shall be maintained in the client record. The client's parent/legal guardian will be asked at diagnostic interview examination for the frequency with which they would like such information shared with them and client records shall reflect that notifications conform with requests.

(8) The initial assessment of each client at the time of admission or diagnostic interview examination assists in obtaining all of the following information about the client that could help minimize the use of seclusion and restraint. Such information is documented in the client record. The program informs the family/legal guardian about use and reporting. The following information is obtained/provided:

(a) Techniques, methods, or tools that would help the client control his or her behavior. When appropriate, the client and/or family/legal guardian shall assist in the identification of such techniques.

(b) Preexisting medical conditions or any physical disabilities and limitations that would place the client at greater risk during seclusion or restraint including developmental age and history, psychiatric condition, and trauma history.

(c) Any history of sexual or physical abuse that would place the client at greater psychological risk during seclusion or restraint.

(d) If the client is deaf and uses sign language, provision shall be made to assure access to effective communication and that techniques used will not deprive the client of a method to communicate in sign language.

(e) The client and/or family/legal guardian is informed of the organization's philosophy on the use of seclusion and restraint to the extent that such information is not clinically contraindicated.

(f) The role of the family/legal guardian, including their notification of a seclusion or restraint episode, is discussed with the client and, as appropriate, the client's family/legal guardian. An agreement will be made with the family/legal guardian at diagnostic interview examination regarding notification.

(9) Seclusion/physical restraint may be authorized only by a licensed independent practitioner (LIP), Seclusion and Restraint trained QSAP I, preferably the one who is primarily responsible for the client's care or by a qualified registered nurse. The person authorizing seclusion or restraint meets the requirements and such is verifiable in the personnel records. Chemical restraint may be ordered only by a licensed physician, certified registered nurse practitioner, or licensed physician's assistant. The authorization for each instance is documented in the client record.

(10) In the event that a client who is deaf, hard of hearing, or limited English proficient must be restrained, effective communication shall be established by a staff member fluent in the client's language of choice. If the client's preferred language is sign, the staff member shall hold an Intermediate Plus level or higher on the Sign Language Proficiency Interview or be a qualified interpreter. The manner of communication is documented in the client record. A client who is deaf must have at least one hand free during physical restraint.

(11) Authorizations for the use of seclusion and restraint have the following characteristics:

(a) Are limited to one (1) hour.

(b) Are not written as a standing order or on an as needed basis (that is, PRN).

(c) Specify the behavioral criteria necessary to be released from seclusion and restraint. It is documented that clients are released as soon as the behavioral criteria are met.

(12) Agency written policies and procedures require every effort to be made to terminate seclusion and restraint at the earliest time it is safe to do so. Time limited orders do not mean that restraint or seclusion must be applied for the entire length of time for which the order is written. Efforts to terminate seclusion and restraint shall be documented in the client's record including when seclusion and restraint is appropriately terminated sooner than the timeframe for the order ends.

(13) When seclusion or restraint is terminated before the time limited order expires, that original order can be used to reapply the seclusion or restraint if the individual is at imminent risk of physically harming self or others and nonphysical interventions are not effective.

(14) At the time the initial authorization for seclusion or restraint expires, the client receives an in person reevaluation conducted by a Licensed Independent Practitioner (LIP), Seclusion and Restraint trained QSAP I preferably the one who is primarily responsible for the client's care or by a Qualified Registered Nurse. Documentation in the client record shall address all of the following requirements of the in person evaluation:

(a) The client's psychological status.

(b) The client's physical status as assessed by a RN, MD, DO, CRNP, or PA.

- (c) The client's behavior.
- (d) The appropriateness of the intervention measures.
- (e) Any complications resulting from the intervention.
- (f) The need for continued seclusion and restraint.
- (g) The need for immediate changes to the client's course of care such as the need for timely follow up by the client's primary clinician or the need for medical, psychiatric, or nursing evaluation for needed medication changes.

(15) If the seclusion or restraint is to be continued at the time of the reevaluation, the following procedures must be followed and documented in the client record:

- (a) A new written authorization is given by a Licensed Independent Practitioner or by a Qualified Registered Nurse as defined above, preferably by the one who is responsible for the care of the client.
- (b) When next on duty, the S and R trained QSAP I licensed independent practitioner evaluates the efficacy of the individual's treatment plan and works with the client to identify ways to help him or her regain self-control.
- (c) If the authorization is continued past the first hour, the case responsible QSAP I licensed independent practitioner will be notified within twenty-four (24) hours of the client's status.

(16) Clients in seclusion or restraint are monitored to ensure the individual's physical safety through continuous in-person observation by an assigned staff member who is competent, fluent in the preferred language of the client (spoken or signed), and trained in accordance with the standard. The items in 580-9-44-.08(22) are checked and documented every fifteen (15) minutes. If the client is in restraint, a second staff person is assigned to observe him/her.

(17) Within twenty-four (24) hours after a seclusion or restraint has ended, the client and staff who were involved in the episode and who are available participate in a face-to-face debriefing about each episode of seclusion or restraint. To the extent possible, the debriefing shall include:

(a) All staff involved in the intervention except when the presence of a particular staff person may jeopardize the wellbeing of the client.

(b) Other staff and the client's personal representative(s) as specified in the notification agreement may participate in the debriefing.

(c) The facility must conduct such discussion in a language that is understood by the client and the client's personal representative(s).

(d) The debriefing must be documented in the client record. The debriefing is used to:

1. Identify what led to the incident and what could have been handled differently.

2. Ascertain that the client's physical wellbeing, psychological comfort, and right to privacy and communication were addressed.

3. Facilitate timely clinical follow up with between the client and primary therapist as needed to address trauma.

4. When indicated, modify the individual's treatment plan.

(18) Within twenty-four (24) hours after a seclusion or restraint has ended or the next business day appropriate supervisory staff, administrative staff, and the case responsible QSAP I shall perform an administrative review. To the extent that it is possible, the review should include all staff involved in the intervention, when available. The administrative review is used to:

(a) Identify the procedures, if any, that staff are to implement to prevent any recurrence of the use of seclusion or restraint.

(b) Discuss the outcome of the intervention, including any injuries that may have resulted from the use of seclusion or restraint.

(c) Staff must document in the client's record that the review sessions took place and must include in that documentation the names of staff who were present for the review, names of staff excused from the review, and any changes to the client's treatment plan that result from the review.

(d) The review shall include particular attention to the following:

1. Multiple incidents of seclusion and restraint experienced by a client within a twelve (12) hour timeframe.

2. The number of episodes for the client.

3. Adequacy of communication in instances of seclusion or restraint of clients who are deaf, hard of hearing, or limited English proficient.

4. Instances of seclusion or restraint that extend beyond two (2) consecutive hours.

5. The use of psychoactive medications as an alternative to, or to enable discontinuation of restraint or seclusion.

(19) In order to minimize the use of seclusion and restraint, all direct care staff as well as any other staff involved in the use of seclusion and restraint receive annual training and demonstrate competency in the safe use of restraint before they participate in any use of seclusion or restraint:

(a) The underlying causes of threatening behaviors exhibited by the clients they serve.

(b) That sometimes a client may exhibit an aggressive behavior that is related to a medical condition and not related to his or her emotional condition, for example, threatening behavior that may result from delirium in fevers, hypoglycemia.

(c) That sometimes inability to effectively communicate due to hearing loss or limited English proficiency leads to misunderstanding or increased frustration that may be misinterpreted as aggression.

(d) How their own behaviors can affect the behaviors of the clients they serve.

(e) The use of de-escalation, mediation, self-protection and other techniques, such as timeout.

(f) Recognizing signs of physical distress in clients who are being held, restrained, or secluded.

(g) The viewpoints of clients who have experienced seclusion or restraint are incorporated into staff training and education in order to help staff better understand all aspects of seclusion and restraint use. Whenever possible, clients who have experienced seclusion or restraint contribute to the training and education curricula and/or participate in staff training and education.

(20) Staff who are authorized to physically apply seclusion or restraint receive the training and demonstrate competency described in 580-9-44-.08(22).

(21) Staff who are authorized to physically apply seclusion or restraint receive annual training and demonstrate competency in the safe use of restraint, including physical holding techniques.

(22) Staff who are authorized to perform the fifteen (15) minute monitoring of individuals who are in seclusion or restraint receive the training and demonstrate the competence cited above and also receive ongoing training and demonstrate competence in:

(m) Records of initial and ongoing staff training and competency testing shall be maintained in personnel records and training materials shall be available for review as needed.

(23) All direct care staff are competent to initiate first aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation. Records of staff training shall be maintained in personnel records.

(24) There is a written plan for provision of emergency medical services. Client records demonstrate that appropriate medical services were provided in an emergency.

(25) Seclusion and restraint shall:

(a) Be implemented in a manner that protects and preserves the rights, dignity, and wellbeing of the child/adolescent.

(b) Be implemented in the least restrictive manner possible in accordance with safe, appropriate restraining techniques.

(c) Not be used as punishment, coercion, discipline, retaliation, for the convenience of staff, or in a manner that causes undue physical discomfort, harm, or pain.
